A location you can't miss

It's not hard to find the Mernda Town Centre, located at the crossroad where Plenty Road, with 36,000 passing cars a day, meets Bridge Inn Road, and its 9,500 passing cars. For locals and visitors alike, there's no missing this bustling hot spot of activity. And with the convenience of 480 on-site carparks, it's easy for shoppers to pop in anytime.

The new Mernda Railway Station is also directly adjacent to the Town Centre. For its 1,820 passengers coming in and out by train every day, they'll find themselves in easy reach of shops, entertainment, medical suppliers and more – all within a stone's throw. On the other side, Mernda Central College rounds out this hub of connectivity.

Just what a neighbourhood needs

The proposed Mernda Town Centre will be home to all the little conveniences of a great neighbourhood hub. Built following a traditional 'main street' layout, locals can expect a warm and welcoming place to tick off their to-do lists, or while away a day.

Once complete, visitors will have access to a full-sized Woolworths supermarket, three mini-majors, and 30 speciality stores, together with future proposed commercial, medical, entertainment and residential development.

The centre will also have direct access between the Centre and nearby train station, making this a go-to destination for shopping and leisure right away.

Meet the locals

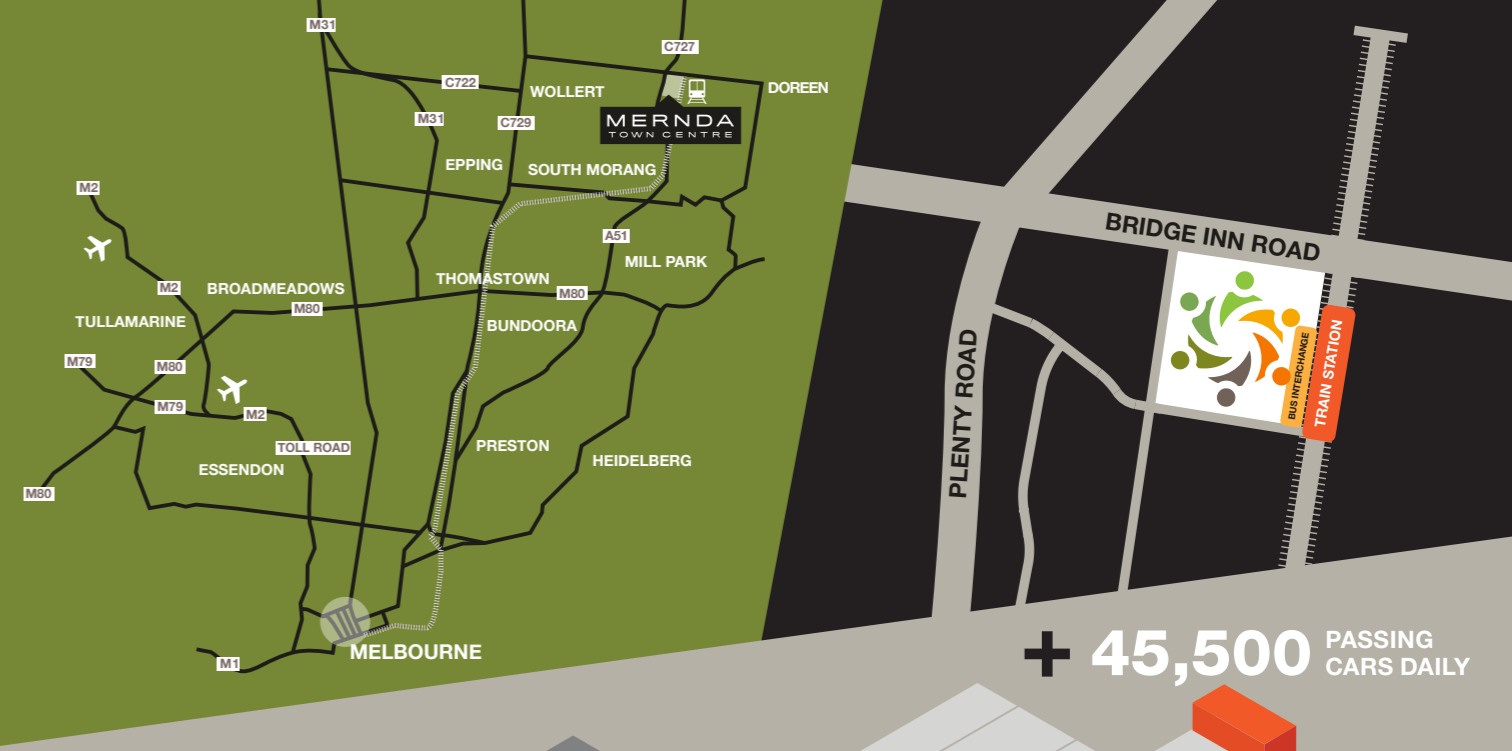

Retailers in the new Mernda Town Centre will be serving a relatively young, family-oriented community. The Median age here is 31.9, compared to 37.6 in Metro Melbourne. Average household size is 3 and 58.3% of residents are couples with children (compared to 2.6 and 47.8% in the city).

There's also a high rate of home ownership – 76.7% of locals own their home (compared to 68.5% in the city) and 58.1% own their home with a mortgage (compared to 37.1% in the city).
